43,650 Population Estimate GC May Try Special Census to Redistrict

The latest population "guesstimate" for Granite City is 43,650, it was announced during Monday night's council session.

The estimate, an increase of 377, over the 1960 U.S. Census Bureau count of 40,73, was given by the Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission for redistricting purposes.

However, whether the block by block figures will be utilized for redistricting the city's out-of-balance wards, has not been decided.

Mayor Orders Street Crew to Level Tract, Set Headstones Flush

On orders by Mayor Partney, a street department crew moved onto the old cemeteries in East Granite with highlifts, graders and other equipment this morning to clear the area of weeds and debris and to set tombstones flush with the ground level, face up.

Although the mayor was cautious about the legality of such actions during Monday night's council session, he was instructed to get the job done.

The mayor dug through the city's archives and found a resolution with two leases attached, dated Oct. 7, 1940, giving the authority for 30 years to properly maintain the Catholic and old Methodist-Episcopal cemeteries.

"These cases were recorded at the court house on July 1, 1941, and give the city full responsibility for maintaining the grounds. And that's what I plan to do," the mayor told the Press-Record this morning.

Signatures on Leases

The mayor noted the leases were signed by the late M. E. Kirkpatrick, mayor, the late Edwin Riggs, city clerk, and by the late Mayor Michael Costello of the Sacred Heart parish and by E. W. Link and Frank K. Dillman, trustees for the Methodist cemetery.

"The problem has become a political football over the years," Mayor Partney commented, adding, "The proper procedure is to be carried out at old, unkept cemeteries throughout the U. S. and even in England."

Realizing there could be repercussions, the mayor commented that he hopes families with relatives there will be

"With the headstones buried flush with the ground and all the debris cleared away, the city now will be able properly maintain the grounds," Partney said.

The 10-man street department crew is placing stone markers where each headstone is removed, and the stones will be reset in the ground at the proper location.

The old cemeteries have been targets of numerous cleanup campaigns and also a favorite target of vandals, who operated since the late 1940s.

Recently, 10 derelict youngsters have been digging caves in the area, and for years the area has been used for dumping debris, and the area also has been a fire alarm test each year.

An attempt this year to prevent weed growth with chemicals failed.

Development of the area as a Quiet Park has been in the minds for the past several years with an agreement between the city and park district and the Catholic Diocese and Metropolitan Community Church.

"I obtained the legal opinion specified by the council, so today the city went into action," Mayor Partney said.

Council Demands Repairs To All Railroad Crossings

Granite City is making demands—instead of requests—for repairs to railroad crossings.

The aldermen noted that virtually every crossing, except the recently installed West Ponton road crossing, is in need of immediate attention.

Aldermen noted Monday night's council session was for City Atty. Allen to write the Illinois Commerce Commission "and demand immediate repairs."

Two amendments were offered to the motion—for a motion to have ICC, railroad and city officials to inspect the crossings and the other to advise the railroads that if they don't make repairs, the city will enforce an ordinance that would require the rails to be lowered to the required level of the streets.

Mayor's Suggestion

Mayor Partney, who pointed out the second amendment would "perk up the railroads," had suggested the stipulation as the council members discussed the crossings.

The aldermen noted that the city would have to lower the rails to the required level of the streets.

Council members voted down a recommendation by Street Committee Chairman Sternberg that the street department repair the crossings and bill the railroads for manholes and materials.

GC Firemen Rescue Two by Ladder In $11,000 Blaze

Two persons were aided down a fire ladder because of smoke in their upstairs apartment and in the hallway in a fire about 8:50 p.m. Tuesday at the two-story commercial apartment building, 2500 State street.

The blaze caused damage estimated at $11,000 to the brick structure owned by Joseph Stemmmer.

Fire investigators set the damage at $10,000 to the building, which housed the Neighborhood barber shop of Frank Kraus, a beauty shop operated by Stemmmer and 10 apartments on the upstairs. An estimated $1000 damage to contents was caused mostly by smoke.

Trapped by Smoke

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridges, occupants of an apartment, had difficulty with the smoke until they were assisted down the ladder.

Cause of the fire was listed officially as being unknown, but investigators the next day believed it was caused by a short circuit in the wiring. They found four fuses blown out.

The fire apparently started in the basement above a boiler in the location of a flexible tubing containing 10 or 12 wires. It spread into the walls, between the upstairs floor and ceiling joists and around the flue.

Firemen had difficulty finding the fire. They had to feel in the walls, and flames shot through holes cut with an axe.

The alarm was given at about 8:50 p.m., and firemen remained at the scene until about 12:15 a.m. Wednesday. The investigation continued into Wednesday afternoon.

Close Link Between Junior High, GCHS

Grid Instruction

Close coordination between junior high and high school football programs is being developed in the Granite City district. Goals are to upgrade the junior high gridiron instruction and to reduce the number of athletes who are active at the junior high level but inactive at GCHS.

Each Coolidge and Prather are running our offense and defense this season," GCHS Head Coach James H. Morrison says in a report to Principal Lawrence McCauley forwarded through Athletic Director Richard Yates to Supt. Russell D. Johnson and the school board.

The board has urged cooperation so that there is articulation at all levels of a particular variety sport. In this way, it is hoped that a youngster can be trained from an early age in the style and techniques that will prepare him for easy transition to high school athletics.

"Emphasis at the junior high schools is on terminology, fundamentals and player selection with an eye toward the senior high program," Morrison relates.

"During the 1966 season, at least one high school coach is attending each junior high game played by Prather and Coolidge. "Purpose of such attendance is to evaluate and become familiar with the player potential of the junior high squads, and to observe our style of play as executed by the junior high teams, helping the junior high staffs when necessary with any problems in regard to our system of football."

"This spring the ten football coaches involved will compile a junior high players notebook which will be duplicated, as is the senior high notebook. Each junior high player will have a copy of this notebook for the 1967 season."

"One evening this spring, the high school staff and Boosters club will host a social get-together, inviting all members of the 1966 Coolidge and Prather football teams with their parents. At this time we will attempt to be-

Bruised, Toughened Warriors Battle Edwardsville Tomorrow

Granite City high school's winless 1966 gridironers will try again to chalk up a victory in a Southwestern Conference game here Friday evening, confidence buoyed by last weekend's close loss to the powerful East St. Louis eleven.

Warrior Coach Jim Morrison, commenting on tomorrow night's grid battle with Edwardsville, said, "We've got to prove that we weren't lucky in almost beating East St. Louis. We can do this by winning over Edwardsville 1-5 for the season, having beaten only Madison, and Granite City is 0-6 this fall."

He added that the conference clash tomorrow will not be easy

—despite the Tigers' record so far this season.

Morrison said that drills this week have been rigorous, and that the team has been working hard.

"We've got a lot of lumps and bruises left over from the East St. Louis game. Quarterback Steve Conway may not be able to play, but the rest of the boys should be ready," he related.

Both Edwardsville and Granite City are 0-4 in the Southwestern Conference. Edwardsville is 1-5 for the season, having beaten only Madison, and Granite City is 0-6 this fall.

Edwardsville lost to East St. Louis when they played the flyers two weeks ago, 35-6.

East St. Louis Game Awards

Morrison named Conway for the "Fighting Warrior" award for connecting on seven out of 10 passes in the East St. Louis game.

He also listed Mike Dochwat, Terry Yates and John Hommert for the "Chuckles Axe Murder" award for outstanding defensive play against the Flyers.

Award winners are decided after the game is evaluated and after points for tackles and assists on tackles are totaled. A ball carrier tackle is worth two points and an assist on a tackle is worth one point in this system.

Tackling Record Smashed

Morrison told the Press-Record that Dochwat broke a single-game school record of 25 points set by Jerry McKeen in the 1965 Warrior season. Dochwat totaled 29 points in his line-backer position.

Yates totaled 19 points or nine over the average number of points for a defensive guard. Hommert, a line-backer, totaled 17 points and accomplished what Morrison described as the "grand slam" of football — he blocked a punt, intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble.

"This season, I have not been giving out the awards regularly, but these boys did so well I thought it should be announced officially," Morrison said. He expressed confidence that the team will do as well against Edwardsville as against the Flyers.

Trojan Drill Stresses Defense; Ready for Bulldogs Tonight

"I hope they play tonight the way they played against Roxana," Frank Prechal, Highland coach, told the Press-Record in commenting on Madison's game with the Bulldogs this evening on the Madison gridiron.

The Bulldogs coach, whose team beat the Trojans 27-13 last year, said Highland may have to pass because of the heavy Madison line.

He added that because the Trojans "let Roxana run every play in the books," Highland also is considering emphasizing a ground game.

Talking about the Trojan passing ability, which accounted for at least two TDs in Madison's game with Roxana, Prechal said Highland has a good pass defense mechanism.

Trojan Coach Glenn Pickering told the Press-Record he is impressed with this week's drill, and that the line both offensively and defensively is showing considerable improvement.

Commenting on Prechal's statement about a "heavy" line, Pickering said the weights of the lines are about the same. "He means that he plans to pass, but not because our line is heavier," Pickering added.

The MHS coach noted that one Bulldog end, Craig Maniward, will have to be watched closely. He has been the target of most Highland passes this season.

"We will also watch out for a belly series, Highland usually runs this type of play pattern," Pickering said.

As far as game strategy is concerned, Pickering said the Trojans will mix it up and follow whichever course works best during the game.

Madison will be trying for its second Midwestern Conference win, with a 1-2 record so far. Highland is 2-2 in the conference. Highland is 4-2 and Madison 2-3 overall this season.

Trojan Fresh Beat WMA end Season With 4-2 Record

The Trojan fresh beat team, scoring on the ground and in the air, beat Western Military Academy 19-14 yesterday at Madison.

Will Allen scored the first Trojan TD on a 45-yard pass play, with Harold James running the PAT. James, in the second quarter, scored the second Trojan TD on a 35-yard run off-tackle.

In the final quarter with Western Military one point ahead at 14-13, Cecil Kemper, Madison freshman coach, tried out a "home-made" play.

Describing it as a "lonesome end play," Kemper had end Don Bargel stand on the sidelines until the snap of the ball. Bargel then received a short pass and ran 80 yards for a TD. Kemper said Notre Dame has used this type of play effectively in the past.

Winning their last game of the season, the Trojan freshmen end with a 4-2 record. Kemper told the Press-Record that this season was one of the best the Madison high freshman team has had in recent years.

Odds, Ends & Artifacts

A recent column began with mention of tourism, then degenerated into "prowling" and ended with commenting upon artifacts found in an abandoned barn. Today's offering is a continuation of comment upon additional objects found in the same barn, in other barns and in numerous deserted and neglected farm buildings.

Many of these objects easily escape the attention of amateur and juvenile explorers, perhaps a better designation than the frequently used one of prowlers. By juvenile is meant those searchers under sixty, those who have lived since most of the vanishing Americana sought passed from any common use. Amateurs would mean those freshly interested in a way of life that has well passed.

Many of the objects found often will appear meaningless to persons who never have lived on the fringe of the era when most of the objects found were still of occasional use. Objects rating attention are found in a haphazard order and are commented upon here in like manner.

Hinged Brass Ring

One of the objects found in the old barn previously mentioned but not commented upon was a hinged brass ring about three inches across, lying on a ledge of the cattle shed. Rings of this type frequently were seen in the septum of bull noses. With such a ring fixed in his nose a most ill-tempered brute could be readily led about. Could it be that this practice of handling those stubborn animals has given rise to the expression, "She leads him around by the nose?"

Under the same shed were broken bits of yokes for cattle, not for work animals but for those breachy and otherwise. One was an almost complete poke yoke that had a yard or so long, tongue-like projection that kept a cow from trying to break down a fence. Another was a sturdy forked limb tied like a collar about the neck of the animal. Projecting as it did both below and above the animal's neck, it prevented crawling through barbed wire fences, then replacing rails.

A third type, really a cage, was made by placing two wooden frame collars about a cow's neck and separating them by rungs, 12 to 16 inches long.

Horse, Cow Muzzles

These started a recall of other devices used with both horses and cattle. A wire muzzle hanging from a peg told of the days when horses and cattle were muzzled to keep them from biting off the stalks of corn while cultivating it. The one found had been "boughten" one that the farmer had repaired with strands of baling wire. A muzzle used to wear a calf also was found.

Two oldtime feed bags were found in a storeroom. They were used to feed harnessed and hitched horses when feeding time. Perhaps the remembered expression, "It's time to put on the feedbag" came from here.

A handmade bootjack conjured up the image of a man wearing high topped leather boots. A narrow jar was found with some hat pins standing in it and we were reminded of the time when women wore their hair long and in braids wound about the top of the head. Their hats were fastened on by thrusting these long pins through both the crown of the hat and the braids.

Quilting Frame

On the joists of a storage shed near an old dwelling a set of quilting frames, bored with many holes, were found with what must have been thirty years of accumulated dust on them. In an occasional old living room or in the one time large kitchen there still may be found staples or rings in the ceiling from which sets of quilting frames once were suspended to be "raised" when not in use.

Quilting still is practiced by elderly groups of women, generally a church group. At the Pinckneyville Threshermen Convention eight women were busily at work around a framed quilt supported on trestles. There were many interested observers looking on, pausing to admire the skill of the workers.

A twitch and shears hanging on pegs in an old feedway brought memories of a regular springtime task when it was time to trim and clip the mane and tails of mules. The hair of the ears came in for attention. The twitch pins through both the crown of the hat and the braids.

A log maul, some gluts and an iron wedge served to remind those viewing them of the stupendous task of splitting rails and building fences to inclose fields, newly cleared.

Cane Stripper

A cane stripper brought back memories of many a sorghum patch and of molasses making time.

A small clay pipe with a cane stem found in an attic reminded one of the time before cigarettes when that was the popular method of smoking. The pipe and stem also served to bring the mind the fact that southern Illinois once was one of the nation's great tobacco growing regions.

A crosscut saw held in wall brackets suggested the never ending need for firewood for heating the house and cooking. It also reminded the writer of a season in a logging camp.

There were many other objects to tell bits of a story. Old scales (steelyards), mustache cups, coffee mills, boring machines, corn knives, bits of cider presses, turkey feather dusters, hall tracks, steel frames for spectacles, dinner bells, conch shells, flat irons, curling irons, and a hundred other artifacts that add detail to the story of how people lived.

There are more cross-roads to success than straight stretches.

A pessimist is a sentimental optimist who expected too much.

Home notes

By Mrs. Catherine R. Mauck
Madison County Home Adviser

Kitchen Counter Space Needs
To help you get adequate work and storage space in a new kitchen the following guides have been developed by home economists:

Allow 18 inches of counter space on the latch side of the refrigerator for setting out supplies. For the mix center, plan at least 42 inches of counter space and 48 inches if possible. Allow 34 inches if the mix center serves an adjacent appliance.

At the sink center, allow 36 inches of counter on the right for stacking soiled dishes and 30 inches on the left for draining and stacking clean dishes. If the bowl is centered, 36 inches on each side is desirable. If a front-opening dishwasher is at the left of the sink the counter width of the dishwasher may be adequate for stacking clean dishes.

Allow 24 inches adjacent to range burners for storing utensils and supplies. A heat-proof counter is desirable.

Allow 24 inches for setting out serving equipment and supplies and serving food in dishes.

For a separate oven, it's wise to provide 18 inches of counter for setting hot dishes from the oven. When the wall oven is adjacent to another center, however, no special counter is needed.

You can save space when one counter serves two appliances, but don't forget the needed storage space. In general, adequate counter space means adequate storage space.

First Use of New Cafeteria at GCHS Next Week

The Granite City school board made plans last night to be represented at the Thursday, Nov. 3, Chamber of Commerce annual dinner, first activity to be held in the new high school cafeteria.

The 7 p.m. dinner, preceded by a 6 p.m. social hour at the Rose Bowl, will feature a talk by Robert H. Charles, assistant secretary of the Air Force. Formal dedication of the cafeteria will take place at a later date.

No date has been set for first use of the cafeteria by students. A serving line is to be delivered Monday, but it will take some time to install. Supt. Russell D. Johnson said. The line will not be needed for the Chamber dinner.

The board ordered two Halsey-Taylor water fountains with bubbler and glass filter capable of supplying 684 eight-ounce glasses of chilled water per hour in the new cafeteria. Combined cost will be $800, less $228 credit for two smaller (340 glasses an hour) fountains, which are to be used instead at Grigsby junior high.

Public Address System
It was decided to install a public address system in the cafeteria at a cost of about $682, to be paid with receipts from a refreshment stand.

Eight dozen cafeteria trays were ordered from the Ford Co. for a total of $168.

Group insurance procedural rules were reviewed and are to be discussed with teacher representatives. The program is to go into effect Nov. 14, date of the next board meeting.

Nine Coolidge junior high school cheerleader uniforms, scarlet and white, were ordered from Jean

Lee Originals, Goshen, Ind., for a total of $207.

Builder risk insurance cost during construction of Grigsby junior high was reduced from $1894 to $1786 due to elimination of special extended coverage for vandalism and malicious mischief, on which it was found that a non-deductible clause is unavailable.

In other business, the board: Hired a former local teacher, Mrs. Sara Jane Huber, bachelor degree and four years of experience, to teach a half-day kindergarten class beginning Oct. 31.

Authorized trips by Assistant GCPS Principal Thomas Noeth to a national data processing organization meeting in Detroit, and by Art Consultant Eugene L. Alassi Nov. 4 to Kansas City, Kan., where he will speak to the Kansas State Teachers Education Association.

School Brochures
Approved issuance of 8000 copies of a school fact sheet during American Education Week Nov. 2-12. Tri-City Printing Co. will produce it for $87.

MORE ABOUT Partney Vetoes

officials, comptroller, assistant comptroller, inspectors and custodians, were not given increases last year and under the ordinance would have received the $11 boosts. The $24 increases were slated for city hall clerks.

Mayor is Challenged
Bartosik challenged the mayor, saying the council members felt some officials were overpaid, such as the inspection department. Their salaries presently range from $605 to $665 a month, and clerks receive $525 a month.

"We've gone over the budget before, once by $700 to buy street department trucks," the aldermen added.

Mayor Partney replied he had vetoed the $700 added cost for the trucks and his veto was overridden. "There are just too many thousands of dollars. Look at all those special improvement projects that are planned for this year."

Bartosik cautioned that if the salary veto was not overridden, "You can forget raises for city hall employees."

Conducts Own Survey
Bartosik added that he had polled to at least 10 city hall employees and they favored the $24-$31 increases. "They said they had the choice of 4% or the longevity type increase and were not asked what they would like?" He was asked by Fry, "Did you ask all of them about the $24-$31 proposal?"

The pay increases ordinances of 3% to 7% for the police and fire departments and 4% for street department workers stand. The provision for double-time pay for working on holidays was amended Monday night to set the starting date for next May 1.

Placed on first reading was an amendment to the sick leave policy which would grant time off with pay for employees hurt on the job without deducting the days from their accumulated sick leave. City Atty. Allen was asked to determine the extent of Workers' Compensation coverage.

Venice Police Seeking Gun Game Operators
Venice police are seeking a man and a woman who attempted unsuccessfully yesterday to obtain money from a Venice woman through the "pigeon drop" confidence game.

Mrs. Anguelina Gasper of Venice reported to police that she was approached in the 200 block of Broadway yesterday by a woman who began talking to her about a large sum of money. A man approached them with a package that he said he found, which he claimed contained the money.

The man and woman said they would split the money with Mrs. Gasper if she would put up some money "to show faith." Mrs. Gasper said she walked to the nearest store and called police. The couple walked down Broadway and could not be located by officers.

Schlitz, commander, and her husband, chief, Donald T. Cranage.

PTAs Invited to Debate On Revenue Article

Discussions for and against the Revenue Article to be voted upon throughout Illinois Nov. 8 will be the subject of a special program at 8 p.m. today in the Edwardsville senior high school auditorium. All Quad-City PTA members are invited to participate in tonight's debate, being held under the auspices of the Edwardsville PTA Area Council. Dean Harris, Edwardsville council president, said today the program has been arranged in an effort to clarify some of the confusing issues involved in the proposed amendment.

If approved by voters, the Revenue Article primarily authorizes the legislature to adopt a flat rate income tax and stipulates abolition of personal property tax within four years after the start of a state income tax levy.

Amvets 51 Endorse Detention Home Plan

Amvets Post 51 voted unanimous endorsement last night of the Nov. 8 referendum proposal to levy a tax for construction and operation of a Madison county detention home.

William Webb, 5th Division Amvets Commander and a member of the Madison county citizens committee for the referendum, discussed the need of the institution and answered questions.

Membership in Amvets posts has been opened to all servicemen with a minimum of six months service in the Armed Forces from Sept. 16, 1940, until the present time.

Rep. Manning, post commander, said that since Amvets membership since the limits were from September 1940 to September 1955, Floyd Tucker, membership chairman, said the post has a membership of 132.

The post voted to donate $25 to the United Fund and to contribute turkeys to two needy families.

Sen. Robert Kennedy Stumps for Douglas

Approximately 2500 persons, including many from Madison county, attended a Democratic rally in East St. Louis yesterday at which New York Senator Robert F. Kennedy made a 20-minute speech in behalf of Illinois Senator Paul H. Douglas who is seeking re-election in the Nov. 8 general election.

The two senators addressed the crowd at Collinsville and Missouri avenue, the city's busiest downtown intersection which was blocked off for the event.

Senator Kennedy described Douglas as "Probably the most outstanding senior of the century," and referred to him as a strong proponent of Medicare, civil rights, aid to education and other major proposals. Kennedy arrived at Lambert Airport at 1 p.m. and was taken to East St. Louis by motorcade.

W/O Lopez to Land 'Copter at Army Depot

Warrant Officer Michael S. Lopez, U. S. Army former Press-Record photographer, will pilot an OH-13 Helicopter to the Granite City Army Depot at 10:15 a.m. Monday as part of special enlistment ceremonies for Richard B. Gilmore, 20, of Collinsville, who will join the service under the Army's Flight Training Program.

The oath of enlistment will be administered by Gilmore's father, Lt. Col. C. E. Gilmore, XI Corps, located at the Mart Building, St. Louis. Also in the group will be Charles Stott of the U.S. Army Aviation Material Command.

W/O Lopez, formerly of Venice, completed his Warrant Officer flight training Oct. 11. Currently, he is home on a 30-day leave, prior to assignment in Vietnam.

He enlisted in the helicopter training program just one year ago, also in ceremonies held at the local Army installation.

A graduate of Collinsville high school, Gilmore has attended Southern Illinois University-Southern Campus for the past two years. Col. Gilmore and his family reside on Rural Route Two, Collinsville.

All Demos Get COPE Approval

All Democrat and one Republican candidates for state, district and county offices in Madison county have been endorsed by the AFL-CIO Committee of Political Education of the 2nd congressional district. It was reported today by Buddy W. Davis, president of COPE.

Single Republican candidate to receive endorsement is Ralph T. Smith of Alton, former Granite Cityan, incumbent state representative whose nomination in June was tantamount to election along with incumbents Lloyd and Charles Stott of the U.S. House of Representatives who also were endorsed by COPE.

In addition, Davis said, the committee voted to actively oppose the Blue Ballot revenue reform referendum which will be voted upon in conjunction with the Nov. 8 election.

Endorsements for state candidates went to U. S. Senator Paul H. Douglas, seeking a fourth term; Adlai S. Stevens III for state treasurer, Donald M. Price for superintendent of public instruction; Melvin Price for Congressman, Paul Simon for state senator.

At the county level COPE endorsed Eulalia Hotz for county clerk, John Maeras for treasurer, George Musso for sheriff and Wilbur R. L. Trimp for county superintendent of schools.

Critics Fail Public When Elected

To the Editor:

In response to the letters sent to you by aspiring Republican candidates for public office and their supporters, it behooves me to ask these great people why they are such geniuses when not in office and such failures when in office.

They have all the answers to the many problems that confront the present administration, yet they could not handle the few problems that faced the Eisenhower and William Straton administrations.

They are constant critics of a progressive party for making a few mistakes, which is to be expected when any new ideas are innovated. I have never seen a shortstop who covers areas of ground go without error, but the player who stands in one spot never errs.

The Republican will constantly cite isolated cases involving misuse of funds sponsored by the War on Poverty program, but never the numerous good things derived from such a program. I would rather be with a party that declares war on poverty rather than one that declares poverty on people.

The Republican party will many times declare that it is the party of the future, but after it is accepted by the public will want to come in for its share of glory by reversing or altering the program. Why did they not have to be disagreeable just because someone disagrees with me.

DEMOCRATS DUCK BLAME FOR HARMFUL INFLATION

To the Editor:

"Slip, slide and duck any prices of higher consumer prices if you possibly can. This was the advice given to Democratic candidates by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman recently in Washington.

The Johnson administration is blaming labor, industry, housewives ("with their extravagant shopping habits") for the inflation. Every time I would like to matter of fact, they'll point the finger at almost anyone in order to confuse the public into thinking it's not the fault of this administration.

The Johnson administration is allowing tight money and high interest rates to carry the burden of financing inflation. With the result that the construction trades, small business, institutions making home loans, and young people wanting to build or buy homes are the sufferers.

On July 28, 1966 Senator Albert Gore (D, Tenn) made the following statement in the Congressional Record: "Mr. President, this is a sad day for the American people who build their lives on credit, or who owe money."

I agree this is a sad day for Americans and I wonder how the present administration thinks it can solve the problem of inflation. It is a sad day for the American people who build their lives on credit, or who owe money."

JOHN S. GUTHRIE
Republican candidate for Congress.

Adoption Pamphlet Available

(A public service of the Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association)

The legal process involved in adoption of a child now is easier and takes less time than ever, the Illinois State Bar Association reports in a revised pamphlet entitled "Adoption: A Family Matter of Legal Importance."

According to the ISBA, Illinois adoption laws encourage early placement of the child with the adopting parents.

In some cases, the court may take jurisdiction of the child within hours after birth, an arrangement which permits the adopting parents to receive the child directly from the hospital nursery.

Here are some of the points the ISBA makes in the pamphlet:

1. There is no single source of children for adoption. A child may be obtained directly from the natural parents or legal guardian. However, the most common source for securing a child is through a licensed public or private agency authorized to place children for adoption.

2. No agency will attempt to place a child for adoption until

Vote 'Yes' Nov. 8 to Build a Madison County Juvenile Home

Madison county for many years has needed adequate juvenile detention facilities. A referendum Nov. 8 on a penny-and-two-thirds tax rate calls for the county government to build and maintain a juvenile home. We recommend its approval by voters.

Detention of children for the juvenile court should involve a special type of residential care meeting two primary requirements:

1. The building should be designed so that a child assigned to it can be in fact detained, whether he is a delinquent needing secure custody or a dependent or neglected child. The community has a right to immediate protection if a juvenile cannot safely remain in his own home or be placed in a shelter facility.

The need of disturbed, homeless, aggressive or misdirected youngsters are such that the restrictions which are imposed must avoid creating a jail environment. Detention of the young must begin the rehabilitation process, rather than pushing them in the opposite direction. Children have a right to constructive group activity and individual guidance pending court disposition.

With $125,000 currently on hand and the proposed tax producing $144,000 annually, it would be possible not only to construct and equip a juvenile home housing 30 to 40 at one time for an estimated $592,000 but also to properly staff and maintain it.

The 21-room structure that has been planned would be of immense value to children, to the courts and to Madison county residents generally.

For a child, detention safeguards him against his own uncontrolled actions, protects him from parents and others who reject him along with his behavior; offers activities which challenge his interests; provides group guidance to counteract the potential ill-effects of being confined with other delinquents; brings him individual counseling, helping him use the detention experience to understand himself and come to grips with his problems; and provides contact with persons in authority who are as concerned with his well-being as with his living within the law.

For the court, the juvenile home provides secure custody for possibly dangerous boys and girls, assures their availability for interviews and hearings of losing two judges if that many or more were disapproved by voters. However, later interpretations indicate that only one judgeship would be lost.

Advocates of retaining the four not only cite their experience on the bench but warn against the circuit being "crippled" if the number of judges is reduced. There is enough of a workload among all of them, they say, to keep all of them busy, it is asserted.

John W. Freels, director of the administration of the Illinois Supreme Court, reports that the Third Circuit is authorized in three circuit judges (not on the ballot this year), the Bond county associate circuit judge, and three Madison county associate circuit judges, plus another Bond county judge. The Bond county judge is long in no vacancy occurs due to retirement, death, removal, etc.

ings; and gives an opportunity to prepare a report to the probation officer and judge, based on short-term but intensive study, expanding the available information on which a decision must be based.

For the community, detention protects people and property. As youngsters achieve a healthier outlook on life, they respond more readily to the advice of the probation officer, social worker or correctional institution, reducing the number of repeat offenders. Parents and others who come in contact with the juvenile home become aware of sound methods of handling children with behavior problems.

An additional benefit would be the chance to train graduate students in social work, education, psychology and allied fields through cooperation with such schools as SIU-SW. This could help attract qualified people to a career field of great importance to society.

A thought in the minds of many voters as they decide the fate of the juvenile home proposal may well be that "there but for the grace of God go I." No family has a guarantee that it will not have need of the facility itself. No individual is certain that his life will not be affected for better or worse by a child's success or lack of success in reaching maturity.

The Press-Record urges a "Yes" vote Nov. 8 on construction and operation of a Madison county juvenile detention home.

For Mental Health But Against a Blank Check; 'No' Vote Suggested

Madison county voters will decide Nov. 8 whether to establish and maintain community mental health facilities and services at a cost of up to a 10-cent tax rate on each $100 valuation.

It is unfortunate that the 1963 state law providing for such an election did not allow submission of a lower initial rate limit. As both the proponents and opponents point out, the rate on the ballot far exceeds actual need.

The 10-cent rate, of course, would not be mandatory and undoubtedly would not be fully utilized immediately. The citizens' committee proposes two cents initially.

At present, there are a state mental hospital and two mental health clinics in operation in Madison county, the latter centers financed by state allocations and United Fund gifts. Schools also provide some assistance in this field through employment of psychologists and special education staffs.

By expanding existing programs for the retarded and for persons with varying degrees of emotional instability, Madison county could qualify for more state and federal funds, provide humanitarian services, work toward reducing future hospitalizations costs (treating a patient outside the hospital costs only a third as much) and increase the chances for many people to lead useful, satisfying lives.

The question each voter must answer is whether to approve the current proposal with its spending authority of nearly $1 million a year, or whether to wait in the hope that Illinois legislators will permit a more realistic rate limit to be considered in counties of this size and assessed value.

PTA, Longtime Revenue Reform Advocate, Opposing Amendment

(Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers)

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers has had a long history of interest in revenue reform.

Any organization which requests and supports continuously increasing appropriations for education and other services for children and youth has a responsibility to be concerned with the production of adequate state revenue. This organization is not a "Johnny-come-lately" in the effort to revise the Revenue Article of the Illinois constitution.

However, after careful study and prolonged convention discussion, the ICPT has decided that it cannot support the referendum Nov. 8. Reform and change are not synonymous. The PTA does not believe that HJR 71 constitutes a revenue reform.

PTA members are conscientious citizens who desire that the state of Illinois provide desirable services at an acceptable level with a tax structure that will enable the state to acquire adequate revenue by equitably taxing means and who are willing to pay their fair share of a fair tax.

As an organization which is committed to the welfare of children and youth in home, school and community, our objection to the revenue amendment is that it does not establish the long-range potential for adequate revenue on an equitable basis.

Because of the failure of some mass media to give a fair amount of exposure to the sensible opposition to this amendment, it is important to list the specific faults which the PTA finds in HJR 71.

It is being said that opposition to this amendment is based on "nit-picking" because of the many drafting errors in the article. Certainly, any ambiguities in the language can be cleared up by court decisions. But when the amendment is so worded that it can be picked up by one reading of the amendment, we conclude that it did not receive careful examination by many legislators before the vote.

It was the obvious lack of adequate consideration by legislators that concerned us, and not the technical errors per se.

Revenue Not Exhausted

There is no basis for the contention that the PTA is opposed to "utopia" in a new Revenue Article. The convention body took cognizance that the choice was between a new proposal and the present article, and no other alternatives are available in 1966.

The PTA is not convinced that all possible sources of revenue under the old article have been exhausted or that the only alternative to the addition of a poor amendment is financial disaster for the state.

For example, we will not concede that a state income tax under the present article is unconstitutional until such a tax has been passed and tested. No recent legislature has been willing to pass an income tax, at even a small fraction of one percent, so that the question of constitutionality can be settled.

We are aware that PTA opposition to this amendment may be misunderstood by some people as a repudiation of our long-held position on a state income tax. However, the position in favor of a state income tax was reaffirmed by the convention at the same session at which opposition to HJR 71 was passed.

In the words of one delegate, "A desire for a state income tax is not a desire for a state income tax. It is a desire for a state income tax, and it is a desire for a state income tax."

On the other hand, the coupling of a state income tax with compulsory abolition of all personal property taxes within a four-year period, and the complications surrounding these provisions, will probably work more effectively than the present constitutional quagmire to eliminate the income tax from serious consideration.

It is interesting to note that one of the most active organizations in support of the amendment has had, and continues to have, a position of strong opposition to a state income tax.

Language Not Clear

If the voters are being offered an amendment which will entitle a local government to the possibility of a state income tax, the language should be clear enough to make this evident.

This amendment is so worded as to attract both proponents and opponents of a state income tax, and the result is a confusion of the voters. The amendment is not clear enough to make this evident.

Examine the potential effect on both state and local revenues for adoption of an income tax. The amendment provides an increase in bonding power of 20% if the personal property tax is abolished. This is a significant increase in bonding power, and it is a significant increase in bonding power.

Park District to Run Rink Sewer To Fehling Road

The Granite City park board, meeting two days earlier than its regularly scheduled session, decided Monday night to pay an additional cost for construction of a sewer line from the new ice rink and recreational center to Fehling road.

Board members said the sewer extension to Fehling road, one of alternate plans under consideration, was determined as the most practical action because the sewer trunk line in that area is new.

Use of that route will entail the lowering of a water main by the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co., cost of which is to be borne by the park district. Board members said they did not know the exact cost but that it will approximate $700.

Plans also were discussed for installing the Eagle removed from the old post office building in Civic Park. The Eagle was removed from the old post office when it was demolished to make way for the park. Officials said they will meet within a week or ten days with A. H. Sebold to discuss arrangements for erecting the symbol.

A contract for furnishing fuel oil for heating purposes was awarded to Lindy's Mobil Heat on the firm's low bid of 10.85 cents per gallon. Plans also were discussed for visiting a nursery at Peter's Station for an inspection of tree stocks that might be used in Wilson park to replace dying elm trees. Park Board members said they desire a species that will provide more coloring during the fall.

The board voted to buy a pool table for the recreational center at a cost of $202 and approved a request of the Missouri University to borrow a firm of park district activities for educational purposes.

The board met Monday night instead of its regular date on Wednesday because several board members plan to attend sessions of the annual convention of the State Association of Illinois Park Districts. The meeting opened yesterday in Peoria and sessions will continue through tomorrow.

A contract between the city fire department materially in the 33 years he has been on the department.

Insistence for a contract, similar to those the city has with Reilly Tar & Chemical Corp. and the Bi-State and Tri-City Port harbors was made by Alderman Fry.

Called upon by Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Fire and Water committee, Chief Donley, related "Most of the help is given during emergencies."

"If we run out of firefighting foam, we can go there and get what we need and repay it later. They have helped us many times when there have been breakdowns in equipment on week-end. Their machinists have machined parts for us and their welders have repaired broken parts—all without cost to the city."

He suggested a meeting for this evening, but neither the mayor nor the city attorney could be present for an evening session. No other date was set.

GC Steel Third Quarter Net Income Up Over 1965

With the demand for flat rolled steel products well maintained in the third quarter this year, the Granite City Steel Co. had net sales for the three months ended Sept. 30 of $42,030,000 and net income of $2,611,000, or 61 cents per share of common stock, compared with third quarter 1965 sales of $42,664,000 and net income of $2,213,000, or 51 cents per common share. Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board and president, announced Monday afternoon in the interim report to stockholders.

The improvement in net income enabled the firm to earn 6.2% on sales in the third quarter this year versus 5.2% in the third quarter of 1965. The seasonal tapering off in steel industry activity which usually appears in the fourth quarter can be expected this year, Veeder said. "However, the demand for steel remains high and above the 1965 level in the same period."

The expansion and modernization program is moving ahead. "Our expansion and modernization program is moving ahead," Veeder reported. "The main shaft in the iron mine we are developing jointly with the Hanna Mining Company at Pilot Knob, Mo., is now down to the full depth of 1,356 feet and construction has begun on the surface facilities. We are progressing with the two large projects at our plant, a basic oxygen furnace plant and 80-inch computer-controlled hot metal, and expect to begin operating both these vital improvements in late 1967. "During the third quarter, we started installation of the fourth major project of our 1965-1967 modernization program; namely, the third galvanizing line. We are incorporating in this line some existing facilities which will permit the line to be in operation during the first half of 1967. This unit will provide a much-needed increase in our ability to supply the expanding market for zinc-coated steel products."

Bach Society Opens Drive for Members

Invitations for membership in the Bach Society of St. Louis were mailed this week to open the society's annual membership drive, according to Richard R. Caemmerer, president.

In a letter to prospective members, Caemmerer noted that the society's annual Christmas Candlelight Concert has been sold out in advance for the past five years and expressed hope that this year's membership campaign will be similarly successful. The concert will be held this year on Dec. 9 at Kiel Auditorium. Membership in the society assures a good choice of seats in both of the yearly concerts, the Christmas program and the Spring Festival Concert to be held next May.

A. O. Smith Awarded $9 Million Contract

New government contracts totaling $9.7 millions have been awarded to A. O. Smith, Inc., for the production of 750-pound demolition bomb casings and for expansion of the plant where the casings are produced at Waco, Texas.

The new supply contract, for $8.4 million, increases to almost $38 million the total value of orders placed with the company since the first of the year. The bomb casings are produced at the Waco plant which is a jointly-owned affiliate of A. O. Smith Corp. and Armco Steel Corp.

The other new contract is for $1.3 million and is for additional machinery and equipment and a new 20,000-sq.-foot building as an addition to the Waco plant.

The expansion will increase production by about 25% and employment from a scheduled 800 to more than 900 persons, according to Waldo W. Higgins, president of A. O. Smith Corp. of Texas. About 700 persons now work in the plant.

A. O. Smith was given its first bomb casings contract of the current defense build-up last December and the first casings were shipped from the plant in June.

Blue Ballot Debates Planned for Public

The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and the Madison County Bar Association are co-sponsoring a program to make available to the public information concerning the Nov. 8 "Blue Ballot" referendum to allow complete revision of Illinois Revenue Codes, it was announced this week.

Carl Mathias, president of the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that while the proposal of Illinois Revenue reform is a major issue in the Nov. 8 election, there has been a severe shortage of analytical information given to the public.

The Chamber of Commerce has made arrangements with the bar association to provide debates on the topic, with local area attorneys serving as speakers who will present analysis of the pros and cons of the proposed constitutional amendment.

Any organization desiring a debating team or a speaker is asked to call the Chamber of Commerce or Irvin Slate Jr., chairman of the Madison County Bar Association Public Relations committee.

More Track Removal Ok'd; Drainage Line Bids Sought

Award of a contract for removal along Adams street and bid calls for several drainage projects were authorized Monday night by Granite City council members.

A. H. Seebold Co., the local firm that is removing old trolley tracks along Niedringhaus avenue west of Madison avenue and along Washington avenue, for $19,900, also was the lone bidder for the Adams street track removal from 18th to 21st street at $5145. The work is being done with a $27,916 special street fund. Bids for the Clark avenue drainage project in the vicinity of Franklin avenue and to the west are to be sought for a second time. The initial low bid from A. H. Seebold Co. in the amount of $15,405 was rejected. The project engineer and Street committee noted the unit prices were high.

Alderman Parmley called for bids to be sought for the Palmer avenue drainage project to cost an estimated $500, and Street Committee Chairman Sternberg said the drainage project for the 3600 block of Madison avenue is ready for bid. Award of the contract will be subject to an easement from the property owner, Glen Hollis.

Barriade Street at School. At the request of Alderman Fry, the council voted to barricade Maryville road at the north end of the pavement at Parkview school to prevent damage to a newly installed sidewalk.

Fry noted the unimproved "path" is deeply rutted, is muddy and that motorists are driving close to and on the sidewalk. "We've got to do something before the sidewalk is broken up," he added.

The city owns a 30-foot right-of-way from the school north to Stratford lane with nine or 10 feet used for the sidewalk. No effort has been made to acquire another 30 feet to construct the street.

Authorization was given for bids to be sought for a sectional metal door for the rear of the street department garage, and Engineer Paul Hagler and Street Supt. Warfield were authorized to attend a University of Illinois institute on new development in use of bituminous materials for streets, held yesterday at Urbana. They were given a total of $45 for expenses.

The street department was instructed to carry out concrete repairs on private property at 28 Briarcliff where there was settlement due to a sewer line installation, causing the driveway ribbons and front and back stoops at the home to sink. The authorization was opposed only by Alderman Whitmer.

Approval was given National Foods to extend a driveway for its new store at Madison avenue and Nameoki road for a distance of 35 feet along Madison avenue.

Referred to the Street committee was a request by Southwest Bell Telephone Co. to tunnel under St. Paul avenue at Wilson Park drive and Indiana avenue to install a cable.

REV. HERBERT MIRKY

Reformation Services For Lutheran Churches

A Reformation Vesper Service will be conducted at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash avenue, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The speaker will be the Rev. Herbert Mirky, executive secretary for the Council of Lutheran Churches of Greater St. Louis, an organization of nearly 100 Lutheran congregations in St. Louis and St. Louis county.

The Reformation service is sponsored annually by the Lutheran Bureau of Granite City, representing Concordia, Hope and St. John Lutheran Churches. A graduate of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, the speaker will base his sermon on the theme, "How Valid Are the Concerns for Protest and Reform in The Church Today."

Following the service the congregation will be invited to a round table discussion with the guest speaker who will be joined by Pastors Samuel Boda, Arvin Twietmeyer and Alfred Bult in presenting "The Reformation Today."

Peace Lutheran Members To Hear Manifesto Sunday

A 18-point "manifesto" to be read Sunday in Peace Lutheran Church, 2450 Stratford lane, will begin a period of self-examination and renewal at the church as well as in 617 other congregations of the Lutheran Church in America.

The Rev. Carl L. Johnson, pastor of Peace Lutheran, said the manifesto consists of a "check list" of characteristics that a congregation alert to modern times must consider.

The document will be read from the pulpit on Reformation Sunday and then studied and discussed with the help of material being prepared by the LCA Executive Council, Pastor Johnson said.

He said the LCA approved the manifesto and accompanying two-year study at its church-wide convention last June. At the 1964 convention, the LCA became concerned that some of its congregations may have lost touch with modern changes in private and community life, and it ordered a study of the nature and mission of the congregation. The manifesto is the result.

Among other points, the manifesto urges the congregation to greater cooperation with other Lutheran and non-Lutheran bodies; it urges recognition of the "dramatic increase in the proportion of youth in the population; and it asks the congregation to increase efforts to "promote justice, relieve misery and reconcile the estranged."

The manifesto also demands a thorough examination of the congregation's inner, spiritual life, and calls for regular examination of the congregation's organizational life "to make sure that every part of it is an authentic expression of the gospel and contributes to the fulfilling of its mission."

"The manifesto is part of a church-wide look at itself," said the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, LCA president. "I hail it with joy and gratitude. It has the potential for immeasurable good."

"Study materials are being prepared."

Youngsters who reside in the Granite City park district may acquire two free goldfish at 8 a.m. Saturday at the Wilson Park entrance near the 27th street and Delmar avenue entrances, Har- old Brown, park superintendent, said today. He reminds parents that children taking advantage of the park's give-away program must have their own container of youngsters to Wilson Park. Distribution of free goldfish was started several years ago and annually attracts hundreds of youngsters to the park. Brown explained that the district finds it less expensive to restock the ponds each spring, rather than transfer the fish to indoor tanks.

Brown said that many youngsters return the goldfish to the ponds in the spring months, sometimes because the fish grow too large for their fishbowls at home. He added that returning

Library Building Repairs, Heat for Sewer Plant Ok'd

Tuckpointing the public library building and committee authorization to provide interim heating at the sewage treatment plant were authorized Monday night by Granite City council members.

Mrs. Margaret Lueters, president of the public library board, said the board has accepted a $700 bid from the William Baker Co. of Venice to do the tuckpointing, with the final authorization to be given by the council. There was no objection.

The Pollution Plant committee was instructed to provide heat for the sewage treatment plant at the Army Depot until Illinois Power Co. completes installation of a gas line to the buildings.

Gas Line Going In
Project Engineer Edward Jueneau of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, said the gas line will not be completed for several weeks, and that the contractor, Nelson Construction Co., St. Louis, has advised him it cannot be held responsible for damage to equipment and materials.

Council members earlier had discussed installation of bottled gas and heaters.

Alderman Rutledge reported the council's Finance committee met with the comptroller, treasurer and city clerk to determine the best method for billing and collecting sewer rental and sewage treatment fees.

"It was suggested the ordinances be revised to assign the duty to the city treasurer, but we're awaiting word from the city auditor who has said it would be better for the billing and the collecting tasks to be divided.

Permission was given Harold Mayfield of the Civil Defense organization to attend a U. S. government-sponsored Radiological Defense Officer school to be held at Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 30-Nov. 4. The $94 cost is to be paid by the city with 50% to be reimbursed by the federal government.

Mayfield, who teaches radiological monitoring classes locally, is a steel mill employee and is using a part of his vacation time to attend.

Alderman Bartosiak called for a report from the Civil Defense organization on the amounts of reimbursements received in recent years.

Metals Firm Installs
New Equipment Here
Hubbell Metals, Inc., located in the Granite City Industrial Center at Niedringhaus avenue and Cleveland Blvd., has completed installation of a heavy duty metal sifter which will permit a substantial increase in production.

Hubbell Metals, which occupies the buildings at the west end of the former Nesco plant fabricates flat and rolled metals for shipment. The new metal sifting equipment can be used in sizing all types of metals, a plant spokesman said.

Although the firm processes all types of metal, including flat sheet steel, majority of its shipments is in the aluminum line.

The firm has operated in the former Nesco plant since 1957 when it purchased the buildings from a syndicate of businessmen who purchased the Nesco property and eventually created the Industrial Center that now houses several manufacturing and warehouse businesses.

All four are graduates of Granite City high school and as youngsters were Press-Record newsmen. They are the sons of Mrs. Virginia Cantlon, 2704 Buxton avenue.

The brothers are: Airman First Class Allan R. Cantlon, 25, who has been stationed with a radar unit near Bangkok, Thailand, for the past Cantlon, 20, was graduated in June 1965 from Granite City high school and has served in the U. S. Navy as an aircraft mechanic for 14 months. He is based aboard the attack carrier, USS Intrepid, presently on duty in the South China Seas off the coast of Vietnam.

Youth Given Year In Prison; Police Battle Bad Checks

Carlton Turner, 19, of Rural Route One, was sentenced to a year on the state prison farm at Vandalia after pleading guilty Monday to a charge of deceptive practices involving a forged check.

Granite City police have opened a crackdown on bad checks with the arrest of several defendants. Turner had admitted the theft of four payroll checks from Aro-Dressel Food Products, and endorsing and cashing one for about $100. Forgery was charged initially but was reduced to deceptive practices. He had been on unsupervised probation for theft.

Fined $300 and costs Monday in magistrate's court was Billy Webb, 31, of St. Louis, on three deceptive practice charges after he was held by East St. Louis police on a check charge. He pleaded guilty to cashing a bad check for $10 at the Kroger store and two separate checks at a Tri-City Grocery store.

James Flannigan, 43, no address listed, was returned to court after failing to make restitution on a bad check for $13.35 passed previously at Cohen's market. At the time he was fined $100 and costs, but $50 of the fine was stayed if the check was made good. The $50 suspension was re-instituted and he again was ordered to make restitution. A deceptive practice charge against another man was withdrawn as he was a first offender and agreed to pay court costs and make good the check, according to Chief of Detectives George Teller.

City Oks Commercial Zoning For Dwelling on Nameoki Rd.

Zoning changes for a commercial designation in the 3700 block of Nameoki road and for duplex dwellings on six lots in Lueders Park Estates subdivision were given initial approval Monday night.

Granite City council members refused to approve a special zoning permit for professional offices authorized by the City Plan Commission at 3408 Nameoki road. The request was made by Dr. G. M. Baggot. It was noted the council had refused a Plan Commission recommendation several months ago for a similar special permit for 3410 Nameoki road.

The commercial designation was approved for Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Steele and Mrs. Verna Stuart at 3711 Nameoki road, presently an R-2 dwelling that is adjacent to other commercial property.

Insufficient Vote
The zone change to permit duplex construction at 3109-23 Yale drive was not recommended by the City Plan Commission because of an insufficient 5-to-0 vote that favored the change.

Chairman William F. Hoelscher, in a letter to the council said, six votes were needed and he declined to vote because he resides in the area. He added that he objected to the change, feeling that it would open the door for 80 to 100 other lots to be rezoned for duplex dwellings that were to be only a "buffer strip."

Several council members took exception to the chairman's note, saying the aldermen take the responsibility for giving final approval on duplex development in the area.

The council went on to authorize preparation of ordinances for the Nameoki road commercial zoning and for the duplex development by Leo Wolf.

Later, during the Ordinance committee report, the duplex ordinance was presented for adoption, but was referred to the city attorney for study after a first reading vote ended in a 7-to-7 tie. It was noted the ordinance had been submitted without study by the attorney or listing on the council's agenda.

The ordinance for rezoning 3711 Nameoki road from residential to commercial also was read and was approved on suspension of

Social Security to Revise Earnings Records Annually

Ralph Brasher, manager of the East St. Louis district Social Security office pointed out today that the records of all retired workers will be re-examined annually by the electronic computer, starting this year, and that new computations will be made if the worker has received additional earnings that would provide an increase in his benefit rate.

"This will make it unnecessary for any beneficiary to apply for recomputation in the future."

"This automatic recomputation feature will be especially valuable now that workers becoming 65 will need to register for health insurance coverage," Brasher said.

He pointed out that all workers will need to apply for health insurance coverage in one of the three months preceding the month in which they become 65, and explained that those who do not retire will receive the advantage of their continued earnings through this automatic recomputation process.

"Filing for benefits at age 65 will not result in permanently fixing the benefit rate at this time," Brasher said, "since the additional earnings will always be considered in the recomputation examination."

He added that only the high speed of the computers have made it possible to annually re-examine the earnings records of millions of social security beneficiaries.

Deadline Nears for NROTC Qualifying Exam

The deadline date for making application for the regular NROTC qualifying examination is fast approaching. Applications must be received by the Educational Testing Service on or before Nov. 18.

Applicants will participate in the nationwide competitive examination on Dec. 10, 1966, the only date on which the examination will be given, as the first step toward a college education and a regular commission in the naval service.

All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 per month for not more than four years. During each summer between his college years, a midshipman participates in training cruises.

High school seniors and graduates who will be entering college in September 1967 may apply for the Navy College Aptitude Test. Those who make a qualifying score on the Navy College Aptitude Test (NCAT) will be given a medical examination and will complete their applications in January and February 1967.

Applications for the NCAT are available at local high schools and Navy Recruiting Stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers-8626), Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C. 20370.

In which traffic problems on streets and highways can be solved.

The meeting was sponsored by Gov. Kerner's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, the office of the superintendent of public instruction, the Illinois High School and College Driver Education Association and SIU-SW.

Compressor stations like this help bring natural gas to Metropolitan St. Louis

Natural gas delivered to your gas company and to industry travels hundreds of miles through our pipelines from the South and East into Metropolitan St. Louis. Along the way from Texas and Louisiana, 22 compressor stations keep the gas moving. At the stations the gas flows through pipes like these to and from the compressors which supply renewed pressure to complete its journey. A WORD OF ADVICE FROM ILLINOIS POWER:

Now is the time to check your chimney

If you heat your home with gas, coal or oil, now is the time to check your chimney flue. During the summer months, some chimneys become blocked with soot, bird nests or falling bricks. This creates a safety hazard when furnaces are used in the fall.

To check a gas furnace vent, hold a lighted match under the draft diverter. If the flame is pulled into the diverter, the vent is clear and safe to use. If the flame blows back, the vent is blocked and unsafe.

To check a coal or oil furnace vent, remove the vent pipe and hold a mirror inside the chimney to see if it is clear.

If you have any questions on how to examine your chimney or furnace, just call your Illinois Power office. We'll be glad to advise you.

GCCHS Student Council 'Adopts' Girl in Greece

The Student Council of Granite City high school has financially "adopted" a seven-year-old Greek girl through the Foster Parents Plan, Inc.

She is Malamati Tsolakidou, who lives with her parents, a sister, Garyfalia, 12, and paternal grandmother in a small village near Drama in northeastern Greece.

Her parents were refugees from Asia Minor who went to Greece years ago.

For years, the father provided for them by working as a field laborer. In 1958, however, he developed tuberculosis. He was treated in a sanatorium for a year, but since then he has returned home and is not able to work. He still needs medical attention.

Mother Has Burden

Malamati's mother carries the burden of family support. They own about 4½ acres of land, out of which she cultivates 2½ acres with tobacco. The rest is barren and rocky. The elderly grandmother receives a small agricultural pension, bringing their income to a total of $31 a month for the support of five.

Home for them is an old hut with two rooms and a hall. Floor and roof are rough wooden planks. They have two beds, one cot, one table, a trunk, wardrobe, four chairs and the bare essentials of bedding and cooking utensils. Though they have electricity and sanitary facilities, they must fetch their water from a public fountain.

Malamati's ambition is to attend gymnasium (school) like her sister. She is a bright, lively little girl in her first year of primary school. Her favorite subjects are reading and arithmetic. Like other little girls, she loves dolls.

Adoption Financial

The adoption by the council is financial, not legal, and costs $15 a month for one year. The Student Council has been advised that upon receipt of the first payment, they receive a photograph and information.

Every month little Malamati will write to her foster parents, who also will write to the child.

Guerrilla Training

For Pvt. Loren E. Wilson

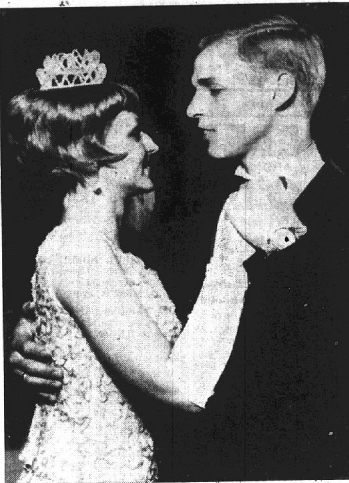

Army Pvt. Loren E. Wilson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Wilson, 2805 East 25th street, has completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training at Ft. Gordon, Ga. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes, and avoiding enemy ambushes.

The Plan organization transmits original and translations of the letters.

Foster Parents Plan informed the Student Council, "Your generous aid assures her schooling and gives the entire family some measure of security." Plan provides a monthly cash grant of $8, clothing, supplies and special medical care. Social workers are available.

Others interested in "adopting" a child may contact Foster Parents Plan Inc., 323 Park Avenue South, New York, N. Y., 10010.

1-in 3 to Graduate, SIU Warns Parents

Only one in three beginning college students will graduate four years hence, warns a booklet, "The University Student in Your Family," distributed by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The booklet is sent to the parents of new students at SIU to acquaint them with necessary adjustments both students and parents must make to university life.

The students who succeed, says Jack W. Graham, university dean of students, "will, in most cases, do so because of a sound background, the willingness to make personal sacrifices, and the support and encouragement of parents."

"The ones who fail tend to be those who lack motivation and who have not developed the self-discipline to study, to attend classes and to regulate their lives according to accepted standards."

The booklet warns that homesick problems often are in the parents rather than in the students. "Try to avoid too many calls, frequent visits, or insistence upon weekends at home. It is just possible that such persistent reminders of home may upset some student enough that their college careers will be affected." Yet a sincere interest in the student by the parent is genuinely appreciated and means much to the student.

Miss Chandl Named to Parents Day Committee

Patricia Chandl, 2387 Pontoon road, is a member of the Parents Day steering committee at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, to plan a program for Parents Day weekend Nov. 11-13. One of the features will be an award presentation to the parents of one coed and one male student. The two couples will sit with President Delvie W. Morris at the SIU-Ball State football game Nov. 12.

Homecoming Chairman

Roger Studebaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Studebaker, 2639 Edison avenue, is chairman for the 1966 Augustana College Homecoming to be held Oct. 28-30 at Rock Island where he is enrolled as a junior.

SUSIE STERN

Susie Stern to Serve As Reporter for VHS

Susie Stern, a Venice high school sophomore, has been designated as the official school reporter for the current academic year.

She will represent the Student Council which recently decided to provide school news for the Press-Record Youth Focus section as a council project.

In previous years the publications class undertook the project, but since the class was abolished this year, it was necessary to find a new sponsor.

Young Miss Stern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Stern, 583 Washington avenue, Venice, is president of the sophomore class and is a member of the Student Council, the chorus and the Future Homemakers of America.

Gets Role in ISU Play

James Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bowers jr., 2824 Nameoki road, will play the role of Payne and will be a member of the Peeters in the dramatization of "Billy Budd," Melville's classic sea story, to be presented at Illinois State University, Normal, during the 1966 Homecoming on the weekend of Oct. 28.

Health Services, Arthritis Foundation Aid Area Residents

Two organizations vitally concerned with health problems of Quad-City residents are among the 22 Tri-Cities Area United Fund agencies which will benefit from the current UF campaign. Both the Health Services Fund and the Arthritis Foundation are subsidized through local contributions.

Originally established as a fund offered to national health agencies in lieu of separate drives in the community, the Health Services Fund is now used for assistance to persons with medical problems beyond their financial resources.

Requests for assistance, referred by physicians, clergymen or individuals, are studied by social agencies equipped to make case studies. Action on each case is then recommended to the Social Planning Council of the Tri-Cities United Fund which makes final approval.

Through Investigations
Thorough investigations of each request are made by council members before payments are authorized to hospitals, drug stores, health agencies or medical dispensing services from United Fund appropriations. Instances develop frequently in which no funds are available through other local agencies for care of patients with cancer, heart trouble, diabetes, polio or brain tumors, sight, cerebral palsy, asthma, epilepsy, kidney ailments and multiple sclerosis.

The Health Services Fund has a $7500 allocation from the 1967 Tri-Cities United Fund.

Arthritis Foundation
A program of treatment and education is conducted for local victims of arthritis and rheumatism, primarily at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, and in the physical therapy department of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The Foundation has been providing services for medically indigent patients of local physicians for five years. Prior to the last 12 months, payments were made for services received from the Health Services Fund.

Admission as a separate participating agency was approved by the Admission and Distribution Committee and authorized by the Tri-Cities Area UF board of director in July 1965.

Under its new status as a separate agency, the Arthritis Foundation allocation, provided through the local UF campaign, now also supports research into causes and cures for rheumatic diseases, as well as making available to local physicians the many publications and manuals of the National Arthritis Foundation.

The annual allocation of $2200 to the Foundation also permits unlimited referrals by Quad-City doctors to the Foundation for treatment and services.

Four Area Banks Named As State Depositories

The four local banks are among 1006 financial institutions to be designated as official depositories for state funds, William J. Scott, state treasurer, announced today. They were successful bidders for more than $500 million in state funds which were awarded evenly between downstate and Chicago area institutions.

Interest rates here were 3 1/2% on six-month deposits by American National, Granite City Trust & Savings and Madison National Banks and 4% on one-year deposits by the American, First Granite City National and Granite City Trust banks. Rates ranged up to 5 1/2% by large Chicago banks, Scott said.

Seebold was paid $1135 for concrete and other materials supplied the city; and Thomas Skerle was paid $1328 for the new sidewalk along Leonard avenue. Need for Mental Health Tax in County is Told Mental disorders rank as the second largest expenditure for health care in America, Dr. Ralph T. Murray of St. Louis University told a meeting of the Citizens Committee for Comprehensive Mental Health in Edwardsville Monday night.

Expenditures for mental illness amount to $2.4 billion of the total amount spent for direct health care in the latest year tabulated by the U. S. Public Health Service, Dr. Murray said in urging Madison county citizens to vote Nov. 8 in favor of the mental health referendum.

Leonard Schwartz, chairman of the citizens committee, pointed out that the mental health referendum, if passed, would enable Madison county to establish comprehensive mental health services for its residents, providing diagnostic and treatment centers for use by all residents regardless of ability to pay.

The program also will provide 24-hour emergency care, day care centers for emotionally disturbed children, new facilities for working with the mentally retarded, additional staff to provide services for the juvenile courts, programs of prevention and early detection of mental illness in every community in the county and would make available additional state and federal funds for research and program development.

Sample ballots marked in favor of the proposal for the mental health tax were distributed at the meeting. Schwartz explained that a vote exceeding 50% of the votes cast in the Nov. 8 election are necessary to approve the issue.

Bi-State Expands Bus Information Service
Increasing demands for telephone information concerning route schedules, time changes or other data has resulted in expansion of the Bi-State Transit System's information service, it was reported this week.

The system has added four operators for a total of 20 and installed six additional telephone trunk lines for a total of 28, a spokesman said.

Increased call loads from persons seeking information made it necessary to augment the information service, the spokesman said, pointing out that the operators at the bureau in the main office at St. Louis customarily handle a load of around 2800 calls per day.

Old Cemetery Brings Out Charges of 'Playing Politics'

City cleanup of the old cemetery in East Granite erupted this week in charges and counter-charges of "playing politics" which started at Monday night's council session and continued Tuesday.

A motion was made by Alderman Fry for a city cleanup and was approved by the council with one stipulation—a legal opinion from City Atty. Allen on the extent the city can function.

The motion brought forth a charge of "politics" from Street Supt. Warfield, who said he has been trying for years to utilize the department to clear the tract only to be blocked on technicalities.

Fry fired back Tuesday with charges of "politics" by the street superintendent.

Fry's Motion for the Mayor
Fry's motion was for the mayor, as city health officer, to take immediate action to eliminate the health hazard at the cemetery adjacent to Kirkpatrick Homes and that the street superintendent

Patients discharged Tuesday were: Larry Atkinson, 2316 Cleveland; Rosetta Campbell, 2015 Russell; Edna Carter, 2516

"I was accused on the council floor Monday by the street superintendent of 'playing politics,'" Fry said Tuesday. "This statement was made after I had made a motion to have the street department assist in cleaning up the cemetery adjacent to Kirkpatrick Homes."

"The main object was to give assistance to the Quiet Park committee in cleaning up this area which has not been maintained by anyone in the last 20 years."

"In the short time I have been on the council, I have seen the street superintendent continuously play politics with his department."

"Sidewalk and curb repairs, street and alley repairs that were submitted in writing to him over 1 1/2 years ago are still not done. Ordinances that were passed in November 1965 for erection of traffic control signs are still not done, but he had worked on other projects while his department submitted to his department in the last few months."

Fry specified that no parking zones on the south side of St. Clair avenue and on the south side of Edwards street opposite Kirkpatrick Homes have not been posted.

Wants Work Schedule
"I have asked for a schedule on when work will be done, and the answer given is 'when I get around to it.' To my knowledge there is no schedule or planning made on when projects are to be done. There is not even a planned schedule on sweeping the streets, but it is done on a hit and miss basis, about like the cleaning of snow last winter."

"I think it's time that we run the street department like a business instead of a political department."

"Anytime you spend between $30,000 and $40,000 a year ($34,000 budget this year) in one department, it should function like a business with planning, scheduling of expenditures and not on the basis of whether you voted for or against someone at the last election or whether you will vote for one or against someone at the next election."

"To my knowledge, this is the only city in the state that has an elected superintendent of streets who is also Democratic chairman of the city, a precinct committeeman but holding a non-partisan elected office."

"So I ask the people, who are playing politics with their office when all I have asked is that an unhealthful, dangerous condition which exists at this cemetery be cleaned up?"

HOW MANY MILES DO YOU WALK EACH DAY?
The Dr. Scholl's Walk-Meters have recorded housewives do about 8 1/2 miles, policemen 14 miles, 18-hole golfers 8 1/2 miles and lady shoppers at Christmas as much as 18 miles.
If your feet ache, and you have no problem requiring a podiatrist or medical attention, try hating your feet each night with lukewarm water and a good antiseptic foot soap to overcome the accumulated perspiration. Then, after rinsing your feet in cold water to increase circulation, dry them and rub in a good medicated footbath to prevent future corns and calluses. The improvement will amaze you.
